PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Many thanks to State Controller Ron Knecht and his beautiful daughter Karyn for kicking off our program year so wittily and informatively on February 13th!

I think we all know that Nevada went for Hillary in the 2016 presidential election.

We also know that Dr. Joe Heck lost his bid for the U.S. Senate seat vacated by Harry Reid's retirement. We also know that we lost the Republican majority in the state legislature; and down ballot, there were additional very significant losses.

We must turn Nevada Republican RED again this year! And in 2020! The 2021 legislative session (following the 2020 election) will redraw the lines of federal congressional districts, as well as of the State Senate and State Assembly districts, so it is essential that the state legislature be controlled by Republicans once again by 2020.

Also, let us remember that traditionally, the state's senior U.S. senator has a veto over judicial nominations from his or her state. This means that if Senator Heller loses his bid for reelection this year, Democratic Senator Catherine Cortez Masto will become Nevada's senior senator, with a veto over all presidential judicial appointments from the state of Nevada.

These are just a few of the reasons why we, as members of the Incline Village/Crystal Bay Republican women, must go all out to support the election of Republicans in 2018! We must "Be the Lion," as Dinesh D'Souza put it so memorably! (See the excerpts from his remarks to the Washoe County GOP's Lincoln Day Dinner elsewhere in this newsletter.)

I would also like to add my voice to that of Washoe County GOP Caucus Coordinator Liz Arnold, and urge you to attend your Precinct Caucus meeting on March 3rd. For details, see Liz's article also elsewhere in this newsletter.

NvFRW has an agenda for getting Republicans elected in 2018! All members are welcome - this meeting is for YOU!

About our Speakers,

MICHAEL KADENACY and DIANE BARANOWSKI

Michael A. Kadenacy has been a member of the Washoe County Central Committee since 2013. He is now the Chairman of the Washoe County Republican Party and heads up the rebirth of the Washoe Republicans who are working hard to "Make Washoe County RED again!" The Washoe County Republican Party executive team consists of Michael Jack, First Vice Chair; Phyllis Westrup, Secretary; Patricia Miller, Treasurer; John Carey, Second Vice Chair; and Claire Price, Third Vice Chair.

Michael was Senior Vice President for a multi-national corporation based in London which directed operations in Russia, China and India. His skills in the world of diplomacy and the business world are now focused on building a victorious team that will lead the Washoe County Republican Party to victory in the upcoming 2018 primary and general elections.

He served in 85 combat missions in Viet Nam receiving the Air Medal, a military decoration of the United States Armed Forces. The medal was created in 1942 and is awarded for single acts of heroism or meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight.

Michael is a retired member of California and New York Bars specializing in international business transactions. He is also involved in the Small Business Advisory Board to the California State Senate and Advisory board Member to the Small Business Administration.

I am truly honored – and very excited - to be President for 2018-2019 of the Nevada Federation of Republican Women – Nevada’s premier women’s political organization.

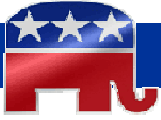

My late husband and I moved here from Northern California for Grandbaby #1’s arrival in 2006, and since his sister’s arrival in 2008, I am completely Nevadan now – right down to the first cowboy boots that I ever owned! I discovered Republican Women very quickly after moving here. Then after having served in various positions at Sparks Republican Women for several years, I became Northern Director and was mentored by two phenomenal women, Phyllis Westrup and NFRW’s Lynne Hartung. They and those two years taught me so much about our State and National levels that I’m ready to bring my energy, focus and ideas to what needs to be done in our swing state of Nevada during the all-important mid-term year of 2018. We can do this!

This is an exciting time because we find ourselves under the media microscope due to our northern swing County of Washoe in our swing State. Once the primaries are over in June we will be galvanizing our club members to support all Republican candidates up and down the ticket. We feel strongly that Nevada is much better off with Republican governance than otherwise, so we will be working hard from now until November of 2018 to keep our Senate, Congressional and Gubernatorial seats.

For years I’ve seen the broad depth and scope of work in which the women of Nevada’s clubs are engaged: from Veterans’ welfare and Honor Flight, to women’s health; or finding women candidates to run in local races, to broader Republican constituent issues or supporting conservative students in local high schools. All of it is carefully planned and designed by our NvFRW leaders to make an impact in our communities and our State, ultimately to help Make America Great Again. Not only do I know many of these women well, but I now have a wonderful cast of characters serving as my incoming Executive Board – and we are hitting the ground running!

If you are not yet in a Republican Women's club, I suggest that you look around the Nevada Federation of Republican Women's website (<https://www.nvfrw.org/>), find your region's club address, and schedule and go visit one of their lunch or dinner meetings. You will meet informed Republican women, hear an engaging speaker – very likely one of Nevada's elected officials – and mingle with like-minded people who you will find are interested in the very same issues that you are. Our clubs always welcome any Republican woman - from Millennials to Baby Boomers - who wants to help us get Republicans elected! We need your skills and knowledge and you will learn the many ways we all work together on projects, plans and parties to get the job done! We welcome you and look forward to meeting you.

May the Father of all mercies scatter light, and not darkness, upon our paths, and make us in all our several vocations useful here, and in His own due time and way everlastingly happy.

George Washington, Letter to the Hebrew Congregation of Newport, Rhode Island,

WE HAVE A LOT OF WORK TO DO, FOLKS!

Former Speaker of the House Newt Gingrich gave the GOP his playbook on how to keep the House in Republican hands in the upcoming November midterm elections, saying they have to toughen up and hit back if they want to win. "We are not tough enough, we're not fast enough, we don't think aggressively enough," Gingrich recently said at the winter meeting of the Republican National Committee. The truth is, too many Republicans don't have the nerve to go out to new neighborhoods and new voters. They talk in cost-benefit terms. Well, that's not going to work if we are serious about growing a stable majority."

The former speaker of the house told Republicans to stop complaining about the news medias' bias and adopt an attack dog mentality when giving interviews with the press. He wants them to treat TV studios like a "war zone" and avoid the trap of believing the interviewer is their friend. "Don't complain about the news media," they are not the problem. The news media is the offensive wing of the other team," he said. "What we do about them is the problem."

"We have to design a campaign plan and . . . train our candidates assuming the worst about the news media. Whenever you interact with the news media you should assume you're going into a war zone. You should plan to take the host head on and challenge their assumptions. I read the transcripts every Sunday. You would be amazed how many of our folks are too slow, too untrained, and don't know what they're talking about," Gingrich continued. "So, they walk in as though George Stephanopoulos is neutral. I mean not only was he the Clinton press secretary, who gave $75,000 to the Clinton Foundation, and we allowed him to chair a presidential debate in 2012. Now, you at least have a minimum rule: Nobody who's completely on the Left is going to get to chair anything for this party's good future."

Gingrich believes it is critical the GOP understand they are in a "cultural civil war" and are fighting against people who hate and "despise" conservative values. We are in a cultural civil war with people who despise us," Gingrich said. "There's no neutrality in there. And that's why they dislike Trump so much – because Trump has the nerve to talk about the problems we face in our country."

One of Gingrich's final points to Republicans was to embrace President Donald Trump's political style and mimic it, every chance they get. He concluded, "I would say to every candidate: study Trump. Trump is one of the greatest articulators I have ever seen. He understands fighting. He likes to fight, and he is prepared to figure out how to go at you at an angle you can't defend."

ENERGIZE YOUR REPUBLICAN PARTY at the Biennial Caucus Meetings March 3rd!

By Liz Arnold, Washoe County
GOP Caucus Coordinator

Every two years, the Washoe County Republican Party holds caucus precinct meetings. Ours will happen at Incline High School from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, March 3, 2018. Do you know that these caucus precinct meetings are crucial to a well-organized, successful party? Here's what else you need to know . . .

Each precinct meets to "caucus." That means talking with people who think like you do. You don't have to hide your opinions! But that is not all that happens in a short two-hour meeting. Important tasks like election of delegates and alternates to the April 7th County convention are accomplished and new Central Committee Members are nominated for election at the county convention to two-year terms.

Serving on the Central Committee is a first step to amplifying conservative voices. Central Committee terms roll over every two years and there are no term limits, so you can serve as many terms as you like and are elected to. To current Central Committee Members: thank you, we are grateful for your dedication. Whether you are new or returning though, you MUST fill out self-nomination forms and submit those at your precinct meeting. Avoid the hassle of extra paperwork by attending your March 3rd precinct meeting!

The fun part is that you can find out how many other Republicans live near you and chat about politics with them. This year there will be a lot of high fives because President Donald J. Trump's agenda has completely turned our economy around, breaking records, in just one year. Discussions about the Party Platform also take place and ideas are recorded for submission to the Platform Committee.

Lastly, each caucus precinct meeting needs a chair to conduct elections and a secretary to record results and assure the paperwork is done correctly for submission to the party afterwards. These are important tasks and luckily, only one-day jobs with no ongoing responsibilities later. If you can help on March 3rd by running a two-hour meeting as a chair or secretary, or volunteering in some other way, we'll be happy to have you. To sign up ahead of time, contact Patricia Moser Morris, the president of your club, at 775-298-2047. There is a one-hour training session left on how to run a precinct meeting. It is being held in Reno at the Washoe GOP office at 3652 S. Virginia Street, Suite C9 on Monday, February 26 at 6:30 to 7:30. Of we can train you here in Incline.

Come to Incline High School at 499 Village Blvd. on March 3, 2018! Get there before 9:00 a.m. so you have time to get checked in and directed to your meeting room by volunteers before your precinct meeting begins at 9:00. It isn't too late to volunteer at a site and we need all the help we can get. Call Patricia at the above number to find out how you can help at your location.

Republicans hold the White House but at the local level we have much work to do. Volunteer time is precious and appreciated. Some have been involved for many years – others are new. A vibrant party needs both to turn Washoe Republican Red Again! Join us March 3rd because the world is indeed run by those who show up!

We need all your hearts and hands to get us over that line. We need your help!

The origin of the word caucus is debated, but it is generally agreed that it first came into use in the British colonies of North America. A February 1763 entry in the diary of John Adams of Braintree, Massachusetts, is one of the earliest appearances of Caucus, already with its modern connotations of a "smoke filled room" where candidates for public election are pre-selected in private.

Dinesh D'Souza's
"BE THE LION"

We were privileged to hear Dinesh D'Souza, renowned political commentator, best-selling author and hit documentary film maker, at the recent Washoe County Republican Party's Lincoln Day Dinner. Here are some excerpts from his Lincoln Day address entitled "BE THE LION."

"The most powerful adversaries we Republicans have now are in Academia, the media, and in the entertainment industry....We have almost nothing equivalent on our side. The left owns the biggest megaphones of the culture....A big lie has enormous power if you can get the target of the lie to believe it....A big lie is harder to disprove than small ones. For example, the big lie that fascism is a phenomenon of the right. This smear was made up by progressives when the concentration camps were being liberated toward the end of World War II. The race and fascism cards are very close....Republicans run scared when the left throws the racism and fascism cards at them....These two cards are based on huge, big lies from the left. Now, according to the left, Trump is not just a racist, but he is also a fascist. The accusation that Trump is a fascist is the justification for the Democrats' behavior -- disrupting the inauguration, Antifa, trying to throw Trump out of office, etc...."

"Trump fights on all fronts: unfair trade pacts, judicial nominations -- he is energetic on all fronts. He is fighting not only the political war but also the cultural war....The thuggishness of the left is why at this moment in our history, there is no one better equipped than Trump to fight back. Our leaders are always on the defensive because they are terrified of the power of the media to destroy their reputations.....They don't know how to cope with the media....This is partly our fault because we have allowed the left to assume such a dominant position...."

"My work is focused on 'fake history' rather than 'fake news'....The Democratic party is the only political party in the world that has ever contended that slavery was good not only for the master but also for the slave. The Democrats' escape hatch [from their true history] is the 'big switch' that is the 'Southern Strategy' -- by which the Democrats contend that the Republican and Democratic parties switched platforms. THIS IS BOGUS....As the South became less racist it also became more Republican....Fascism has always been leftist. It focuses on the group -- that is, the nation -- not the individual. The individual is only valuable under fascism insofar as he serves the state. To know that fascism has always been leftist, all you have to do is read the Nazis' "25-Point Platform" available (of course) on the internet. Just substitute the word 'interest' for the word 'usury' and 'the one percent' for 'the Jews'.... FDR thought fascism was more progressive than the New Deal! During the 1930's, you had the mutual admiration society of Nazis and the Democratic Party.... The Nazis copied the Democrats' Jim Crow laws when they wrote the Nuremberg Laws, their race laws against the Jews....

"The study of history in America has been rigged....The real fascism that we have to worry about today is not just Antifa.... The real fascists in America are the guys in Washington who use the weapons of the State against their opponents. The left has weaponized the instruments of the State against us...."

"There's an inequity of ferocity on the two sides....We are in a brawl....We must recognize that as Republicans, we are and always have been the good guys. We believe that people have the right to keep the fruits of their own labor, while wealth confiscation and redistribution is still the core of the Democratic Party: "You work, I eat." This was Lincoln's definition of slavery! -- and, of course, the Democrats were the party of slavery.

"We Republicans can learn from Trump not to accept the limits of political correctness. When I was in college at Dartmouth, one of my professors talked about 'the Lion and the lion tamer.' He asked us which one was more powerful. Obviously, the lion. But the lion obeys the lion tamer because the lion thinks the lion tamer is more powerful. The lion does not know its own power. The left intimidates us into submission, but Trump does not submit. This is why the left is so terrified of Trump -- because they cannot intimidate him. We must learn from Trump. Let's remember that we are the lions. Know your own power. You have the power to turn Nevada red again, so use it! May WE BE LIKE THE LION, and may we learn to roar."

Dinesh D'Souza is a prominent writer, scholar, and public intellectual, and has also become a renowned filmmaker. Born in India, D'Souza came to the U.S. as an exchange student at the age of 18 and graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Dartmouth College. Called one of the "top young public-policy makers in the country," D'Souza quickly became known as a major force in public policy through his books, speeches, and films.

WHY WE ARE REPUBLICANS

By Jim and Patti Clark

JIM: Hmm. I never actually thought about that. What's the attraction of a political party founded in 1854 as an amalgamation of Whigs, abolitionists, Free Soilers (opposed to new slave states) and economic modernizers?

The first Republican President, Abraham Lincoln, shaped the party as pro-union and anti-slavery. William McKinley and Teddy Roosevelt added a strong military and firm international policies. During the Harding-Coolidge-Hoover era the party added a pro-business slant. There followed 20 years in the New Deal wilderness. With Eisenhower's election, the party became an amalgamation of moderates and conservatives and continues so to this day.

Wikipedia says: "Republicans tend to take a more conservative stand on issues. They believe that the federal government should not play a big part in peoples' lives. Most Republicans favor lower taxes and less government spending on social programs. They believe in less government intervention in business and the economy." That's a pretty good definition because both moderates and conservatives can fit in it. We call it "the Big Tent."

Republicans are also united by what we oppose: collectivism, public welfare programs, nit picking regulations, antagonism toward the military and first responders and irresponsible government spending.

PATTI: My immediate family were all Democrats. They were Ohioans who struggled through the Great Depression and emerged believing that if you voted Democrat you would always know where your next meal was coming from. My dad was a meat cutter and a loyal union man. I was in college studying teaching when I met Jim who was in the Navy. He got orders to a ship home ported in San Francisco so we got married and settled there. When I turned 21 he persuaded me to register Republican and between the two of us we doubled the percentage of GOP vote in San Francisco!

Then we moved to Orange County, California, a GOP heaven except for the domineering teachers' union. I was taught to be a professional and that I owed my allegiance to my students, but the union insisted on doing things their way and actually forced teachers to strike.

I was transformed by the candidacy of Barry Goldwater. We put our one-year-old daughter in a pram and went door-to-door for our candidate. He won Orange County, but not the national vote. Shortly later came candidates Nixon and Reagan whom we enthusiastically supported. We retired in 1992 and are pleased to be in conservative northern Nevada.

Illegal Immigration in Nevada

Nevada has the highest proportion of illegal immigrants of any U.S. state at 7.6 percent of its population, while the number of illegal immigrants nationwide is leveling off at about 11.2 million, according to a Pew Research study. The study looked at U.S. illegal immigrant population trends over a three-year period ending in 2012.

The number of illegal immigrants in Nevada fell by 20,000 over that period, according to the Pew analysis, but the state still had about 210,000. California and Texas ranked second and third, respectively, in the share of illegal immigrants as a percentage of their total population. In addition to having the highest proportion of illegal immigrants per capita, Nevada also has the largest share of them in its workforce, at 10 percent, the study found.

Illegal immigration is a divisive issue in the United States, with Republicans accusing the Obama administration of doing too little to stem the flow of such immigrants from across the border with Mexico.

Most illegal immigrants in the United States are Hispanic and many cross the Mexican border into southwestern states. California has the highest number of illegal immigrants, estimated at 2.4 million in 2012, but has not seen that population grow as quickly as many other states including Florida, Illinois, New Jersey, New York and Texas, the study found.

The Pew study found that the population of people living illegally in the United States leveled off nationwide during the three-year time frame, dropping in 14 states due to the number of migrants coming across the Mexican border declining from a peak of 6.9 million in 2007. At the same time, the number of illegal immigrants rose during that period in five East Coast states - Florida, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Virginia - as well as in Idaho and Nebraska. The study found that the nationwide population of 11.2 million illegal immigrants in 2012 was unchanged from 2009.

How Democrats Intend to Destroy the America You Know

President Bill Clinton's 1995 State of the Union address reveals that the Democratic Party's position on illegal immigration was IDENTICAL to that of President Trump:

- "All Americans are rightly disturbed by the large numbers of illegal aliens entering our country."
- "The jobs they hold may otherwise be held by (U.S.) citizens."
- "The public services they use impose burdens on our taxpayers."
- "My administration will bar welfare benefits to illegal immigrants."
- "We are a nation of immigrants, but we are also a nation of laws."
- "It is wrong and ultimately self-defeating to permit the kind of abuse of our immigration laws we have seen in recent years."

Barack Obama's 2005 position on illegal immigration was also identical to President Trump's. A year later, in 2006, Obama joined fellow Democrat senators Hillary Clinton, Joe Biden and Chuck Schumer in voting for legislation that called for building a border fence.

Once Obama was safely in The White House, he switched his party's position on illegal immigration. In keeping with the Democrat intent to build a permanent majority of government dependent voters, Obama opened the floodgates to millions of impoverished, uneducated, unskilled, non-English speaking immigrants and refugees from around the world, a demographic of potential future voters that could be counted on to overwhelmingly support Democrats.

Co-authored by former Clinton communications director Jennifer Palmieri, an internal memorandum of the Center For American Progress revealed the Democratic Party's true motive in demanding amnesty for illegal immigrants, starting with the "Dreamers" . . .

"The fight to protect Dreamers is ... a critical component of the Democratic Party's future electoral success. If Democrats don't try to do everything in their power to defend Dreamers that will jeopardize Democrats' electoral chances in 2018 and beyond."

By using immigration to advance their intent of permanent political dominance, Democrats have effectively said to hell with the interests of American workers and taxpayers. Make no mistake about it – unfettered immigration is a surefire recipe for destroying the America you know.

MARCH AMERICANISM

March 23, 1775 - Patrick Henry ignited the American Revolution with a speech before the Virginia convention in Richmond, stating, "I know not what course others may take; but as for me, give me liberty, or give me death!"

March 1, 1781 - Formal ratification of the Articles of Confederation was announced by Congress. Under the Articles, Congress was the sole governing body of the new American national government, consisting of the 13 original states. The Articles remained in effect through the Revolutionary War until 1789, when the current U.S. Constitution was adopted.

March 10, 1862 - The first issue of U.S. government paper money occurred as $5, $10 and $20 bills began circulation.

March 5, 1868 - The U.S. Senate convened as a court to hear charges against President Andrew Johnson during impeachment proceedings. The House of Representatives had already voted to impeach the President. The vote followed bitter opposition by the Radical Republicans in Congress to Johnson's reconstruction policies in the South. However, the effort to remove him failed in the Senate by just one vote and he remained in office.

March 3, 1913 - A women's suffrage march in Washington D.C. was attacked by angry onlookers while police stood by. The march occurred the day before Woodrow Wilson's inauguration. Many of the 5,000 women participating were spat upon and struck in the face as a near riot ensued. Secretary of War Henry Stimson then ordered soldiers from Fort Myer to restore order.

March 22, 1972 - The Equal Rights Amendment to the U.S. Constitution was passed by the U.S. Senate and then sent to the states for ratification. The ERA, as it became known, prohibited discrimination on the basis of gender, stating, "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex," and that "the Congress shall have the power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article." Although 22 of the required 38 states quickly ratified the Amendment, opposition arose over concerns that women would be subject to the draft and combat duty, along with other legal concerns. The ERA eventually failed (by 3 states) to achieve ratification despite an extension of the deadline to June 1982.

March 30, 1981 - Newly elected President Ronald Reagan was shot in the chest while walking toward his limousine in Washington, D.C., following a speech inside a hotel. The president was then rushed into surgery to remove a 22-caliber bullet from his left lung. "I should have ducked," Reagan joked. Three others were also hit including Reagan's Press Secretary, James Brady, who was shot in the forehead but survived. The president soon recovered from the surgery and returned to his duties.

BACK ON THE CAMPAIGN TRAIL AGAIN!

Despite remaining under the radar for much of last year, former President Barack Obama's latest move signals a much different strategy for 2018.

The 44th President has indicated that he will "return to politics in 2018, setting the stage for a prominent role in the lead-up to the crucial midterm elections," according to Newsweek.

For his close associates, Obama will ramp up his political schedule with campaign stops and other displays of support for Democratic candidates. He will "continue to be politically active in 2018, with more endorsements and more campaigning," said his spokeswoman Katie Hill to The Chicago Tribune.
